The boat was soon hastly fastened at the mouth of the cave, and the little party thought they were quite safe in creeping under its rocky sides into the dim twilight of the upper end, where the noise of the lashing waves sounded still more terrible as it echoed back on the half-frightened children. Half an hour or more had passed when the rising tide warned the boys that there was no time to be lost in retoraing to the boat. So rapidly had the water flowed in at the narrow entrance of the cavern, that walking gave place to wading before the mouth was reached. Jane alone was dryshod; Cousin Thomas carried her in his arms. But what's the matter now? In a moment hope was exhausted for fear, horrer, despair—the boat was gone! ## MONGOLIAN VS. AFRICAN.

The Chinese are soming in spite of of Congress and the Yankes nation. We have written much, and published more, in regard to them as faithful laborers. This morning we wish to view the question from another standpoint, and, if we can, point out to a class of people already among us how this species of immigration will affect. We shall touch the question of politice only insidentally bu

At the time of the collapse and siter emancipation, the feelings of the Southern whites were thoroughly interested in behalf of their former slaves, and every reasonable sacrifice was made, and assistance rendered, to afford them protection and to advance their welfare. The kindliest relations existed belyeen the dominant and the dependent classes ; but by Yankee sion lighted upon the children, stingand sociamentique for the basest of ing every one of them in a frightful purposes, these have been broken up, manner. The progress of the great and now each has to depend on itself for succor and sympathy. By these bounding into a stock pasture beyond means the best system of labor has the house. The tesult of this induced Southern capitalists and planters to look to another field of supply; and among the teaming millions of Asia it was found. The Me golian, living in densely settled neighborhoods, acoustomed to live on a pittance and to work from infancy to secure that pittance or starve, affords the finest body of reliable and trained laborers, in the world, and to the Southern cotton, rice, sugar helds and public improvements he will come, not like the hoards of Scandinavians, pouring into Italy to destroy but to recuperate, develop and restere Southern wealth and result is that many of them have reprosperity. REMARKABLE ACCIDENT .- A letter received at Louisville from Princton, Ky. speaks of a tearful accident which scourred on the 20th A man and Walker elements, and has no named Boot Crow was hauling upon wagon two immense mill-stones, one of which weighed 2,850 pounds. While passing along the side of a high hill the heaviest stone rolled from the wagon and down the declivity with great velocity, crushing small trees and shrubbery in its course, The house of a farmer named Darwell was situated at the foot of the hill. The mill-stone went crushing through a fence and into the yard of the farmer's house, where there were a number of bee-hives. In the yard were playing a bevy of children. The bee-hives were upset, and the bees in the confustone was not impeded in the least by its collision with the hives, and went calves and horses, killing two of the ered with white swellings. One of them died a few hours after the terrible occurrence, and two others are entirely speechless and blind. They can hardly recover.

THE NEGROES IN TEXAS .- Official suformation from Texas has been received by General O. O. Howard regarding the condition of affairs in that State, from which it appears that 15,-000 freedmen have been rendered destitute by the recent floods. Appeals for aid for the whites who suffered from the same cause have been made, and have been liberally responded to by the people of the South generally. As yet, however; the efforts to relieve the condition of the freedmen have been comparatively slight. The re-Data, in Sun.

The conflicting reports in relation to his feelings and views upon that question, and that it was asserted that he had already given his adhesion to Judge Dent. The President replied to his Horses Grealey, with the Virginia visitor (who is my informant) substant exoresionists, departed homeward to tially that the patronage of the Adof Judge Dent, as the party that supported him was believed to be inimical to the Republican party of the country.

In the course of conversation the President took occasion to express the Revenue laws in the city of Brookregret that so many good Republicans were found acting with men who he believed failed to give a genuine and hearty support to the Republican party and the measures of the Administraany issue in Mississippi which should cause a division in the Republican ranks in that State, and as between the party supporting Judge Dent and his epponents he favors the latter as being the true representatives of the principles of his administration.

The President also talked very freely upon Virginia politics. seems satisfied with Colonel Walker's election, and has confidenc in his integrity. He thinks, also, there is fair prospect of the union of the Wells doubt of the thorough reconstruction of the State. It is inferred from present professions of loyalty and said what was said that the Administration is on the side of Stokes in Tennessee and Davis in Texas, and that when Secretary Boutwell wrote the letter to Stokes, which has been so much commented on, he simply reflected the views of the Administration. AN UMQUHILE MARE.-The death of Grant's mare has created an imnense excitement and fuss among the army physicians and surgeons. The stomach of the dead animal was sent under a strong escort to the Army Museum for analysis, but the doctors couldn't agree. The chief surgeon thought that the beast died the death of nature; the Assistant Medical Director declared that she was poisoned; and a third doctor held the knob of his cane to his nose, looked wise, shook his head, and reserved his opinion for a future occasion. TUNGCHOW, China, Aug. 23, 1866.

Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SONS, Dear Sirs-During a long residence in China, I have used your invaluable Pain Killer, both in my own family and among the Chinese, and have found it a most exinstances, I do not remember failing in a single case. For three years I have been residing in this place more than fifty miles from a physician, and have been obliged often to fall upon my own resources in cases of sickness. The Chinese came to us in great numbers for medicine and advice -Though without medical knowledge our selves. the few simple remedies we can command are so much in advance even in their physicians, that we have almost daily appli cations. We allow them to come, because it brings us in contact with them, and opens a door to usefulness . In diarrhos.
